FORMER RESIDENT PASSED AWAY AT WASHINGTON HOME

Mrs. Elizabeth Tench Smith, ninety-two years of age, and widow of the late Col. Andrew J. Smith, who, years ago, resided in Brunswick, passed away in Washington on Sunday and her body will arrive in the city tonight for interment in Oak Grove cemetery tomorrow morning.

E.B. Smith, son of the deceased, arrived in the city today to make arrangements for the funeral tomorrow. Mr. Smith is a prominent Washington newspaper man, being on the staff of the Washington Post and is Washington correspondent for several large newspapers. He says it has been thirty years since his last visit to Brunswick and he hardly knew the city.

With her husband and family Mrs. Smith resided here for many years. Her husband at that time one of the best known lawyers in south Georgia, died in Brunswick during the yellow fever epidemic of 1876 and was buried in the same cemetery lot as his partner, the late John L. Harris, with whom he practiced law for years.

Mrs. Smith is survived by her son and three [sic] daughters, Mrs. John W. Parker, of Houston, Texas, Miss Marion Smith, of Washington, who will arrive tonight to attend the funeral, and Mrs. Walker and Mrs. Claybrook, of Austin, Texas.

Funeral services were held in Washington, and there will be only short interment services tomorrow morning to be conducted by Royal K. Tucker, of St. Mark's Episcopal church.
